

Date: Mon, 16 May 2016 15:05:51 +0000

From: Sarah Hart <s.hart@BBK.AC.UK>

To: EWM-ALL@JISCMAIL.AC.UK

Subject: PhD scholarship, women strongly encouraged to apply

A mathematics PhD scholarship sponsored by Winton Capital is being advertised at Birkbeck (University of London). The scholarship will cover the fees of a "Home" student [I think that effectively means UK or EU], in addition to an annual stipend of £15,000. There is no restriction on the area of the PhD, as long as it can be supervised by someone at Birkbeck. Our mathematics research areas include Algebra, Combinatorics and Financial Mathematics. Birkbeck strongly supports initiatives to improve the gender balance in STEM subjects

– half our senior faculty in Mathematics is female, more than double the national average, and we particularly welcome applications from women candidates for this scholarship.

<http://www.bbk.ac.uk/ems/news/winton-capital-phd-scholarship>

Applications are open from now until Friday 24th June.

Sarah Hart (Professor of Mathematics at Birkbeck)