

Subject: Lecturer Positions, Mathematics, Chalmers Univ

From: Stig Larsson <stig@chalmers.se>

Date: October 23, 2015

The Division of Mathematics at the Department of Mathematical Sciences at Chalmers University of Technology invites applications for up to two Senior Lecturer positions.

Applications from all areas of mathematics will be considered.

Precedence is given to those who are pursuing a vigorous research program including significant contributions beyond the doctoral dissertation and/or have an exceptional and well-documented record of successful teaching.

Our teaching languages are English and Swedish. Fluency in English is expected. You are expected to learn the Swedish language if appointed. Chalmers offers language courses in Swedish.

Closing date November 30, 2015.
