

** New PhD program at Scuola Normale Superiore,
Pisa, Italy — Call for applications **

At least nine PhD Fellowships are available for students interested in pursuing a PhD degree in Computational Methods and Mathematical Modeling for the Sciences and Finance. Areas of study include Numerical Analysis and Scientific Computing, Mathematical Models for the Sciences and Finance, Computational Physics/Chemistry/Biology, and Operations Research.

A description of the new PhD program can be found at

<https://www.sns.it/en/computational-methods-and-mathematical-models-for-sciences-and-finance>

For instruction on how to apply, please see

<https://www.sns.it/en/admissions/phd/how-to-apply-for-the-post-graduate-course>