

Dear,

in the next months a postdoctoral position will be available at the University of Sassari (Department of Chemical, Physical, Mathematical and Natural Sciences) under the scientific supervision of Iulia Martina Bulai, with the possibility to start as soon as possible or in the first months of 2024.

The position will last 18 months with an annual gross salary of 24,000 euro.

The hired postdoc, together with the scientific advisor, will develop mathematical methods to process time-varying signals on graphs both from a theoretical and numerical viewpoint, and finally will test the new methods on concrete applications. The newly hired postdoc will be part of the PRIN project TIGRECO.

In case you're still a PhD student, please also indicate the presumed date of the PhD defense.

To send an expression of interest, please send your CV to imbulai@uniss.it
