

We are pleased to send you information concerning the International Master in Economics and Finance (IMEF) offered by the Ca' Foscari University, Venice. We would be grateful if you could make this information visible in your department, and bring it to the attention of your best graduate students.

The IMEF programme trains students to acquire a deeper and more sophisticated knowledge of the quantitative analysis of the economic system and financial institutions. IMEF is at its 21st edition and features the highest ranking of international faculty and learning. The programme is being held in English and offers internships c/o the main European and Italian institutions. Post-diploma placement reaches the 100%.

The 2017-2018 edition has Allianz, Banca IFIS, Banca d'Italia, Generali, KPMG, Prometeia and PWC as sponsors and partners and includes training realised by Prometeia experts on risk management and by European Investment Fund on financial analysis.

The faculty is composed of scholars and professionals from international institutions and includes among others Yacine Aït-Shalia from Princeton University, Alain Monfort from CREST, Banque de France and Maastricht University and Stephen Schaefer from London Business School.

Applications can be submitted until September 1st 2017.

Information and application material are available at <http://virgo.unive.it/imef/>

and any further question may be addressed to imef@unive.it